

WE NOMINATE

Katherine Wright Cox, one of the handful of women ever to hold a senior administrative post within Princeton University, who with the close of the current academic year — having gracefully attained the statutory retirement age — will be rounding out 13 years of conscientious and distinguished service to American education and to the "Sons of Old Nassau." It is quite likely that this native of Kentucky, a member of the Barnard College Class of 1922, maintains communication with more Princeton alumni, and is more aware of Princetonians' direct contributions to secondary and higher education, than any other active member of the University Administration or Faculty.

Ever since she joined the staff of what is now known as Career and Study Services, and particularly in her five years as Director of Teacher Placement, Mrs. Cox, the mother of two sons, has been concerned with strengthening a program designed to help undergraduates, graduate students and alumni seeking teaching or administrative positions in schools and colleges. In the elementary and secondary school fields she has had the responsibility of referring candidates to specific openings, while at the Ph.D. level, where the initial teaching appointment rests largely with the individual's academic department, hers has been the task of preparing the all-important "credentials" for prospective institutional employers.

Over the years, first as a staff member, then as Assistant Director and subsequently as Director, Mrs. Cox has been instrumental in placing literally hundreds upon hundreds of Princeton graduates in teaching positions in schools and has assisted scores of Princeton Ph.D.'s who have moved on to teaching posts either in this country or overseas. In the past year alone, the Teacher Placement Office, under her direction, has prepared "credentials" (or dossiers) for 92 candidates for advanced degrees in 14 different departments of study and has arranged more than 800 interviews for educational assignments.

One measure of the position Mrs. Cox, a long-time resident of Hanover, Pa., has earned in the "placement profession" was the tribute paid her by Dean John Merrill Knapp when her retirement was announced this week. Kay Cox, Knapp said, "has rendered invaluable service to Princeton. She has proved herself one of the most competent and able teacher placement officers in the country. Countless Princeton alumni, school principals and headmasters, and teachers will remember her help and counsel with gratitude. Her warm and vital interest in each teaching applicant as a human being has endeared her to all who have sought her assistance."

Long after their first teaching appointment, whether in a junior school in New England, an up-and-coming day school in Texas or a college-affiliated school in the Near East, many Princeton alumni keep in touch with Mrs. Cox. She delights in recalling a midnight telephone call from one young teacher who, without clearly identifying himself, asked whether she spelled her first name with a "K" or a "C." Thinking it a joke, or even a wrong number, Mrs. Cox was about to hang up when the caller hastened to explain: She had helped him as a student applicant several years earlier; his first child had just been born, and he and his wife wanted their daughter to be Katherine Cox's namesake.

For her role in shaping a program of far-reaching consequence to a nation in urgent need of teachers of promise; for her dedication to the institutions and individuals she has served so well; for believing that nothing is more important than working with, and for, upcoming generations; she is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

CAMPAIGN MOVES ON
"Distraint" I hope the citizens of Princeton will not allow this malaise of distrust to spread, and that worries about 'take-over' and 'higher taxes' will give way to positive action for the best interests of the children and young people of both municipalities.

A Presbyterian clergyman who lives in the Borough, expressed that hope this week after receiving an anonymous phone call urging him to vote against merger. In a letter to Town Topics, he explains what happened:

To The Editor of Town Topics: On Friday evening, May 27, I received a telephone call from a person who claimed to be a Borough resident, and part of a group soliciting votes against school merger. The opening remark was that as a Borough tax payer I would certainly want to vote "no" to keep taxes down.

In questioning this, I said that this position could only be based on the assumption that the Township is not serious about building its own school. The opening remark was that as a Borough tax payer I would certainly want to vote "no" to keep taxes down.

JUST CALL ME LANDSEER: Barbara Mills, 7, is a well-known painter of animals. Well-known, anyway, to her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Mills of Pretty Brook Road, and soon to be presented to a wider audience: the Hospital Fee will show her works Saturday as part of its exhibit and sale of art by children. The subject, turning his best profile to the artist, is "Lor," a retriever belonging to Edwin Wialar.

even "substantiated" this position with alleged statements by Township residents and board members.

When I asked who these board members were, my caller would not say.

Then I asked for the name of my caller. The reply was "I feel that my position in the community does not allow me to give you my name."

This conversation highlighted for me that:
1. The Borough position against merger is based on a deep distrust of the Township, just as the Township position against merger is based on a distrust of the Borough.
2. This distrust based on unsubstantiated allegations is being turned loose on our community by nameless voices and nameless letters.

I deplore the spread of distrust. I deplore the use of anonymity. I am convinced that the distrust being fostered by both Township and Borough groups, however well intentioned, can only have a debilitating effect on our community.

These groups which oppose merger do so on the basis of mutual distrust and can only foster disagreement. I hope the citizens of Princeton will not allow this malaise to spread, and that worries about 'take-over' and 'higher taxes' will give way to positive action for the best interests of the children and young people of both municipalities.

His anonymous phone call is apparently not the only one in the current merger campaign. The office of the Mercer County Clerk in Trenton is reported to have received many anonymous phone calls from opponents of merger suggesting "ballot-box stuffing" is involved in the campaign to make sure that people who are going to be out of town receive absentee ballots.

points out, it is impossible to "audit" the ballot box with absentee votes because accurate records are kept of each absentee application and it is impossible to cast more than one vote.

Absentee Ballots. Applications for an absentee ballot are available at the office of each school board. The Borough School Board's office is in the Princeton High School building on Stockton Street. Applications may also be obtained at Town Topics. It is perfectly legal for absentee application forms to be made available by this, or any other newspaper. Applications may also be obtained from Mrs. Richard Bergman, 165 Valley Road. Mrs. Bergman is president of the League of Women Voters.

Once an application is filed, the absentee ballot MUST be used. The applicant may not vote in person at the polls.

Applications must be received by the County Clerk in Trenton on or before Monday, June 12. The ballot will be mailed to the voter. It must then be marked and signed before a notary and must be received by the County Clerk before the last mail is sorted at 9 p.m. in Trenton on June 21.

Mrs. William Miller, of the Borough Board, is once again this week a spokesman against merger. "There has been no explanation as to why it was secret," states Mrs. Miller, referring to the explanation is - sued by Township School Board president George Grzes of the inquiry to Senator Sido Bidoft in regard to representation in any new Regional School Board.

"The Grate letter attempts to bully the Bidoft bill by analogy to the Borough School Board and to the legislation for the modified k-12 plan. The Borough Board, however, first placed its proposal on the table and explicitly stated that it would not seek legislation unless both boards agreed. Are we to believe that where merger is the issue there is no difference between negotiation and deceit? Is the withdrawal of the bill by Senator Bidoft permanent or is it merely waiting until June 21?"

Mrs. Miller also refers to the bill 740 which provides for additional challengers and polling places, where necessary in a school election and protects the role played in the introduction and passage of 740 by Robert van de Velde. "Who appointed Mr. van de Velde as the keeper of the school election law? Which school board asked for his help? This is another instance in which a bill was rushed into the Legislature secretly and advanced under suspension of the rules without committee study or study by educators."

Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson, who supports merger, said at his area conference this Tuesday, that he would issue a formal supporting statement next week.

GULF STATION REJECTED
By Planning Board, Gulf Oil Corporation's plans to demolish its present service station on its corner lot at Nassau and Maple Streets and replace it with a slightly larger, more modern one were rejected last week by the Borough Zoning Board.

Gulf had sought a special permit and several variances to relocate its station in the northwest corner of the lot, 10 feet from the boundary line of the property of Mrs. Georgina Hall, 12 Maple Street. It also sought permission to erect a second service pump "island" parallel to the present one facing Nassau Street. These "stacked islands" would permit greater efficiency and traffic flow, testified Joseph Grant, real estate representative for Gulf in the Princeton area.

Gulf Oil based its application on the grounds of exceptional conditions and difficult ties. Sydney Souler, attorney for Gulf, noted in his presentation, that the Esso and Sunoco gas stations across the streets had recently completed expansion and remodeling programs. "We feel this application is consistent with use in the area," he said.

After more than four hours of testimony and cross-examination between Mr. Souder and Seymour Montgomery, attorney for Mrs. Hall, the board emerged from executive session with its decision. After considering the evidence of the applicant and objectors and the testimony of neighbors and property owners it said, the board has not found the evidence there exists any extra-ordinary and exceptional situations or conditions of the applicant's piece of property... therefore the application is denied.

The Board also noted in its decision that Gulf had expressly stated it was not relying on hardship in its request for a special permit.

FREAK ACCIDENT FATAL

To Nun in Train. One of the most unusual accidents in the 125-year history of the Pennsylvania Railroad took the life of a 33-year-old nun Friday afternoon shortly before 5 o'clock.

As a freight train was passing the train in which Sister Kathryn Maureen of Philadelphia was riding, a chunk of metal from the under-carriage of the freight broke loose. Propelled as if by a spring, it hurtled through the window of the passenger car and struck her in the head.

The accident occurred in West Windsor Township, just south of the Princeton Junction station as the train was proceeding to New York. The train was stopped at the Junction and Sister Maureen was taken by ambulance to Princeton Hospital. She was dead on arrival from a fractured skull. Four other passengers sitting near Sister Maureen were cut by flying glass. They were treated at the scene.

DAYS OF REMEMBRANCE: Princetonians lined Nassau Street under sunny skies on Monday to watch marching units of the annual Memorial Day parade. Later, "Taps" sang out from the War Memorial, beginning ceremonies honoring Princeton's war dead. Legionnaire Ernest P. Drake laid the memorial wreath and Dean Ernest Gordon of Princeton University Chapel, who served with the Argyl and Sub-land Highlanders in World War II, gave the address. Prayers honored members of the Armed Forces now serving in Viet Nam as well as the deceased soldiers of other wars. Next year, the 50th anniversary of the United States' entry into World War I will be marked with special observances.

LAUNCH is the Township's new project, financed through the school budget. Several forthcoming programs will be financed by Federal funds available through —Continued on Page 4

Seventy-two degrees will be awarded to students who have completed the three-year bachelor of divinity program. Nineteen graduates will receive the degree of master of religious education. Most of the graduates earning these two degrees will be entering the pastoral or educational ministry of community churches, or going to assignments as hospital or institutional chaplains.

Master of theology degrees will go to 70 students who have finished an additional year of study beyond the bachelor of divinity level. Ten doctor of theology degrees, requiring a minimum of ten years of college and university study, will be awarded.

"YOUTH OF THE MONTH" New Kiwanis Award. The first of the Princeton Kiwanis Club's "Youth of the Month" awards will be announced on June 18. According to Chandler Wentworth, chairman of the Kiwanis youth committee, the award will go to a Princeton teenager deemed most outstanding by the selection panel.

Members of the panel who will meet this Thursday to review recommendations from the various schools, are Dr. William E. Ribelin, Kiwanis president; Rogers Carrington, Youth Associates; Mrs. William Cherry, Girl Scouts; Philip J. Cobb, vice-principal of the Witherspoon School; Ptl. Walter Emmert, township juvenile officer; Mrs. David B. Hewell, Princeton High School girls' athletics director; Mrs. William Humes, YWCA.

Also J. Alfred Seitz, vice-principal of Princeton High School; Walter Serg. YMCA; Lester Tibbals, Princeton Day School; Norman C. Van Arsdale, Valley Road School; John Wandard, Boy Scouts; Ptl. Thomas J. Froese, Borough juvenile officer; Robert Greif and O. V. Houghton of the Kiwanis.

The "Youth of the Month" award will become a monthly feature of the Kiwanis Club luncheon meetings.

"LAUNCH" AGAIN For Township Children. LAUNCH, the Township's summer pre-kindergarten enrichment program, has been expanded this year to accommodate 85 boys and girls. The program, staffed by seven teachers and a director, will run from July 18 to August 19.

Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.
One of these, scheduled to run concurrently with LUNCH, is the Learning Clinic for children with serious learning disabilities. Six teachers will staff the clinic.

Title I money will also support a music program for youngsters between 10 and 13 years of age. From July 5 to August 12, these boys and girls can learn to play instruments "rented" free of charge and may sing in a chorus.

"Music appreciation" will be part of the program also, and the children may possibly attend a musical show. Three music teachers will serve as staff.

Title I will pay for three summer programs available to any interested members of the Township staff. These are a workshop in human relations at Rutgers, a seminar in community health and welfare resources at Trenton State, and "Values in Teaching" workshop at Princeton.

Next fall, Rutgers will conduct a weekly program in the diagnosis of reading problems for 30 members of the Township teaching staff. Title I will again be the financing agent.

The Township has also been awarded $34,438 under the library resources section of Title I of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Dr. John J. McKenna, in making the announcement to the Township School Board, stated that the Township is "eligible for much in library money" because our librarians are already above average."

INTRUDER SUSPECTED

Inside Cleveland Lane home.

An intruder fled from inside a house at 11 Cleveland Lane shortly after 2 a.m. Friday when the owner, Sidney Ratner, flashed on the lights. Mr. Ratner told police he thought of first the noise he had heard was caused by his son walking around the house.

Sgt. Michel Carnevale, PI John Hellow and PI Anthony Banfione of the Borough with the aid of the Township police and its owner, Sgt. Michel Carnevale, searched the entire area. A wallet containing $23 belonging to Mrs. Ratner was found in the driveway of a Cleveland Lane.

An appointment book of Mr. Ratner's was found in roadway at Cleveland and Bayard Lane, and the pocketbook which contained Mrs. Ratner's wallet on the grounds of "Merwick," the nursing home at 79 Bayard Lane. This traces his escape, commented Chief Peter J. McMahon.

Police said the intruder had gained entry by placing a six-foot ladder against an open dining room window. They added that Mr. Ratner is now agitated without glasses, and the only description he could offer about the intruder was that he was about 5'7".

of the office of architect Richard Charlton, located in the 20 Nassau Street building, was forced.

Taken were an electric typewriter and a standard typewriter valued at $660 and $450 respectively and a $122 added machine. Both typewriters were found by the IBM Corporation

Youths Flew, Sunday at 12:18 p.m. Roy Graham, art editor for the University Press, returned unexpectedly to the firm's offices at William and Charlton streets and discovered boys inside. He told police they were between 13 and 16, one short, one tall.

Police searched the area without success. Chief McMahon added that the boys had no time to take anything.

In the Township, the alarm of the Johnson Park School sounded at 5:25 p.m. Sunday when contact was made on ramp leading from the classroom wing to the administration section. A skylight on the north wing of the school had been broken to gain entry.

Detective Sgt. Fred Porter said police were unable to determine whether anything had been taken, or even whether actual entry had been made.

Seven window panes measuring 8 1/2 by 12 were broken over the weekend in a new home under construction at 260 Windover Drive.

It is being built for James Norris of Nimmance Blvd., who told Township police he saw two boys walking in the woods at the rear of the house on Sunday. When one of the two came to retrieve a jacket on the rear patio, Mr. Norris asked what the boys were doing there and was told, "We're going for a walk."

When he returned the following day, Mr. Norris told police he noticed the panes had been broken. Several small stones were found inside the home.

THREE WOMEN TREATED

For Whiplash Injuries. Three Princeton women were treated at Princeton Hospital for whiplash injuries they received Sunday afternoon when their car was struck from behind on Witherspoon Street.

They are Wilma Kennedy, 39, 78 Clay Street, driver of one of the two cars; Jacqueline Washington, 26, and Daisy Chapman, 41, both of 44 Birch Avenue.

The other driver, Row E. Sloan, 23, 272 Witherspoon Street, told police he did not see the Kennedy car, which was stopped in traffic lane to pick up passengers, in time to avoid striking it. He was charged with driving on a learner's permit without the presence of a licensed driver.

On Thursday, a few minutes after 3 p.m. Mrs. Mary G. Reef, 63, 77 Overbrook Lane, was knocked to the pavement as she was crossing Moore Street near Nassau. She was taken to Princeton Hospital and treated for hematomas of the right thumb right knee and foot, the latter two injuries resulting from her fall to the roadway.

Police made no charges against the driver, William G. Moulton, 52, of 57 Heather Lane. PI William Hunter, who investigated, said he could find no evidence pinpointing the location of the mishap.

NEED A JOB?

Come To A Seminar. The John-Witherspoon Civic Association will sponsor a public seminar on jobs and education on Saturday, June 18, from 10 to 3 in the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church. The seminar is part of "Operation Bootstrap," which is seeking to find employment for inexperienced and unskilled Princeton youths. The purpose of the seminar, according to Mrs. E. E. Edwards, chairman of the association, is to provide information for job-seekers and to bring them together with potential employers.

The morning session will feature brief talks on jobs and education. Two workshops will be held in the afternoon, one for youngsters not in school or who did not complete high school, and the other for high school graduates who do not intend to go to college.

Speakers will include Jack P. Ford, supervisor of the Trenton office of the U.S. Department of Labor; William Cook, Princeton High School teacher; Marvie Trotman, Job Corps, New Brunswick; Mrs. Bryan V. Moore, federal civil service; James Bullock, IBM Corporation; Miss Mary E. Moore, coordinator of mid-years for the Association; C. M. Dillard, supervisor of employment at General Motors, Trenton; an expert on beauty culture and a representative of the state Employment Service.

NEW FOUNTAIN ON VIEW

Near Woodrow Wilson School. The pool in front of the new building for Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs has received a striking bronze sculpture fountain. Called a "Fountain of Freedom," the sculpture symbolizes Woodrow Wilson's visions for lasting world peace.

TWO TO RUN
For Township Committee. Next fall's elections seem as remote as the first snowfall and the filing deadline doesn't come until August 4, but two Township Republicans announced this week that they will run for Township Committee.

The new candidates are David S. Thompson, director of development for Princeton University, and John B. Wallace, an officer in the trust department of the First Trenton Bank.

The two Committeesmen whose terms expire are Walter B. Foster and Russell Mount, each of whom has served one three-year term, each of whom has decided not to run again.

Mr. Thompson was the Township's tax collector from 1964 to 1966. Before joining the University's staff, he was personnel manager of the Duhrer-Jarvis Division of National Lead, and for several years was a public relations associate executive with Gray & Rogers in Philadelphia.

He is an elder of the First Presbyterian Church and has been chairman of the church's Scout Troop Committee. With his wife and two children, he lives at 26 Rollingmead.

Mr. Wallace is vice-chairman of the Princeton Township Planning Board and has been a member of the Township Citizens' Advisory Committee on a Township High School. He has served on the United Fund Budget Committee and as a graduate of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University, is a member of the executive committee of the University's National Alumni Association. He is a member of the Trinity Church and lives, with his wife and two children, at 100 Braeburn.

In conceiving the "Fountain of Freedom," sculptor James Fittsgerald, Seattle, Wash., was inspired by Wilson's dedication to international peace and freedom among men. Three bronze abstract forms rise vertically to a height of 23 feet expressing the dominance of man's spirit, while the varied action of the fountain water suggests the counter-balance inherent in the quest for peace.

Weighing nearly six tons, the fountain is one of the largest bronze castings of sculpture in the United States. It was created and cast in six months at the artist's Seattle foundry.

Some 700 gallons of water are re-circulated through the fountain each minute and are sprayed in and around the sculpture in an intricate system of 50 pressure valves and more than 1,000 pin-holes. With powerful lights installed in the pool, the play of the water at night is particularly dramatic.

Come On In . . . The Water's Fine

Dad used to say he was a slave to this pool. Then he discovered Sylvan Pool Treat, the granular chlorine that goes to work instantly. It's completely soluble, and does not leave a residue. He just adds Pool Treat. Says he knows it's safe until it's time to add it again. Pool Treat is packed in convenient 4, 25 and 50 lbs. containers, never leaves a color or odor, and doesn't irritate eyes or skin. We also use Bye Bye Algae. Keeps water crystal clear, and prevents algae growth. Effective against most species of algae.

Taxes — Down?

Well, in a way. Passage of the sales tax decrease in direct school taxes for New Jersey property owner, including those in Borough and Township, in the Borough, the $4.60 tax rate is now $4.36. This means that the owner of a $25,000 home (assessed at $12,500) in accordance with the 50% requirement, will pay $344.00 in 1966 instead of $354.40.

In the Township, an eight-point decrease in school taxes brings the rate from $6.95 to $6.55. In a large lump figure, this means that Township schools will save $7,408 in state aid. Of this $38,272 goes for receding taxes. The $28,136 becomes an additional current-expense appropriation.

The owner of a $24,000 house in the Township will pay $720 in taxes instead of the $735.09 he would have paid without the sales tax. Well, every little bit helps . . .

"I'M RETIRING"

From Borough Service: Henry S. Chester Sr. of Lawrenceville, retired on Wednesday after 38 years with the Borough's Engineering Department and because he and his wife love to travel, his Borough colleagues have presented him with a farewell gift of luggage.

The presentation was made Tuesday night at a buffet dinner in Mr. Chester's honor held at the Harrison Street Firehouse. All Borough employees and members of various Borough boards were invited to attend.

Now 75 years of age, Mr. Chester came to the Borough Engineering Department on August 29, 1928, when he was 37. For more than a decade, he has driven a Borough pick-up truck, supervising the street crew and, in particular, directing the removal of snow from Borough streets following a storm.

Mr. Chester is a member of Trenton's Shiloh Baptist Church and has been on its Board of Overseers since 1911. He knows Princeton, not only as a Borough employee, but as a former worker on the old Howe Farm, now the Riverside section.

Two years ago, Mr. Chester and his wife celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary. They have 11 children. A grandson, Ernest Chester, was the first Negro policeman appointed to the Lawrenceville force.

Travel plans for the Chesters include Canada, for coolness in the summer, and the Caribbean for warmth in the winter.

FIVE TO RETIRE

From University Faculty: Five senior faculty members of Princeton University, whose combined service to the University totals 153 years will retire in June with the rank of professor emeritus. President Robert F. Goheen has announced.

Prof. Henry D. Wolf, Smyth chairman of the University Research Board and Joseph Henry Professor of Physics, has been with the university for 42 years. For the past quarter century, he has combined teaching research, and scientific administration with a succession of governmental posts related to the development of nuclear power, including five years as a member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and the authorship of the famous "Smyth Report" on "Atomic Energy for Military Purposes."

For the Summertime, light and airy coils are always popular—coils that are short and simple to keep neat. This does not mean, however, that they should lack the crown fullness that is so flattering to many face contours. Even a long, fullness on the crown top. When balanced with a short, femininely tapered nape, this line is cool or ena be for summer days.

How can you have and maintain a fluffy crown for casual summer wear? — It's all in the control and correlation of the styling pattern, once the proper base of correctly shaped hair and a soft body permanent have been established.

For the best hair care there is, come to TAVERNWOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 69 Palmer Square West. Call 924-3002 and have your hair done with confidence.

Aware of the dangers created by the rise of Nazi Germany, he helped establish the Princeton Listening Center in 1938 out of which grew much of the monitoring system this nation utilized in the aftermath of World War II in testing the content of enemy propaganda broadcasts.

Do Not Be Persuaded by Myths

Merger Myth No. 1

"Go it alone? Princeton High School faces a future of 350 students if merger is again defeated."

The fact is that NONE of the sending districts at Princeton High School WANT to leave. Only the Princeton Township Board has "threatened" to go unless its terms are met. Within the week, both West Windsor and Montgomery have reaffirmed their desire to remain for the foreseeable future.

Merger Myth No. 2

"We will maintain the status quo for a year."

No regional board is bound by any promises or "agreements" made prior to its own appointment. Furthermore the status quo is already changing. The resignation of the superintendent makes the entire status quo very shaky. The Ridolfi bill to provide "instant control" to the township can be re-introduced at ANY TIME.

Merger Myth No. 3

"All of our educators say we must have a K-12 system for educational excellence."

The truth is, of course, that the Borough already has a fine K-12 system. It is the Township which does not have one. It can acquire one by acquiring ours OR by building its own. Naturally it would prefer to acquire ours.

Merger Myth No. 4

The Princeton Plan "can easily be improved upon" in a merged system.

The fact is that NOT ONE suggestion, other than widespread bussing of arbitrary quotas of Negro and white children, has been offered in the three years of study. Nothing anywhere as good has been discovered to replace this plan in Princeton.

Merger Myth No. 5

"Bigger means better." That is, a bigger system means better education.

The logic behind this one is baffling. Bigness itself creates countless problems and size is carefully controlled in a number of educational systems, including prep schools and colleges. A larger school district necessarily means a less personal one, with serious lacks in parent-teacher-child contact and understanding.

Merger Myth No. 6

"Merger of itself will not increase costs."

To whom? The Borough is expected to help finance a new junior high school, and additional rooms at Community Park, to take care of the overflow due to merger. And a possible senior high school in the future as well as "a million dollars" on the present high school.

The more you examine "the urgency of merger" the more you will question its slogans, catch-phrases, and doubtful logic. Come to the public meeting — John Witherspoon School — June 9 — and explore these myths.

SPORTS in Princeton

SPORTS BANQUET MONDAY
At Princeton Day School. The first father-son all-sports banquet of Princeton Day School will be held Monday at 6:15 in the school cafeteria. Athletic Director Dan Barren reports that 13 athletic teams, including those of the seventh and eighth grades, will be honored.

Principal speaker will be Dick Colman, Princeton University football coach. Honored guests will be Pete and Paul Savidge, who captained football teams last fall. Pool at Princeton and his twin brother, Pete, at Rutgers.

In a sense, this will be a reunion for Mr. Barren. He served as line coach at the Hun School for two years, a period which coincided with the junior and senior years of the Savidge brothers, who starred for Hun.

Pete was a center under Coach Barren, a position he held during his college career. Paul played tackle. In their senior year, the two led Hun to a 7-1 record, its best since 1933.

PHS TRACK TEAM THIRD
In Meet at Union. Leading until the final two events, Princeton High School's track team finished third Tuesday in the Greater Jersey Conference meet at Union. Nineteen Central Jersey schools participated. Union winning with 24 points to 23 for Princeton.

field and 22 for the Little Tigers.

Bart Bennett won the low hurdles but a slow start in the high cut him his first defeat of the season, and he placed third. Carl DeCavalente was also third in the shot, but his heave of 54 feet, 8 inches broke his school record by four inches. A toss of 206 feet, 3 inches won the javelin for Dan Tindall.

LITTLE TIGERS WIN
Blank Huntington, 8-4 Threelitt pitching by Chris Fischer gave Princeton High School's baseball team a 6-0 victory over Huntington Central Tuesday afternoon. The losers had gone into the game with a 123-record, while the outcome raised the Little Tigers' mark to 8-3-1.

Pages 41-44

Fischer struck out seven and the only safeties he allowed were of the infield variety. Three walks and a double by Rich Voss opened the PHS scoring in the second, with two unearned totals following in the third.

In the sixth, a triple by Captain Billy McQuade and a double by Lou Balistrieri powered three more across the plate. The Little Tigers played Cathedral Wednesday afternoon and will finish their 1966 season Friday against Trenton.

PHS NET TEAM OUSTED
FROM NJSIAA Tournament. Ridgewood High School, top seeded and defending champion, ousted Princeton High School Monday from the 20th annual N. J. Interscholastic Tennis Tournament. Ridgewood's George Rork led the way with a 6-1, 6-2 triumph over Pete Dumpl, PHS captain.

PHS had emerged as an early leader among the 71 competing teams when it became the only entry to win two matches on Friday. Singles player Harry Stokes and the doubles team of Steve Smith and Dave Rusinoff paced the Little Tigers to a pair of 2-1 victories over Newark Vailsburg and Thomas Jefferson. Rork then forced postponement of most of the day's matches. The tournament is being held in Princeton.

HOLT, MORY WIN
In Carnegie Sailing. Phil Holt, with Rob Holt as crew, won the penguin class racing staged Sunday by the Carnegie Sailing Club.

They completed 43.4 points to 35.1 for Larry Raffaelli, for whom Eric Jaffeletti was crew. Third place went to Dick Goetz (Bill Goetz as crew) with 31.1 points, while other totals were Dexter Miller, 30.5; Peter Lawson, 25.2; Art Keiser, 13.0; and Walt Foster, 7.0.

Peach.

Don't let the wrinkled fender and dirty face fool you. We gave it a complete inspection when it was traded in. Our mechanics checked the engine, wheels, transmission, steering, wiring, everything. Gave it the 16-point Safety and Performance Test.

Decision! Replace that fender. Tune the engine. Tighten a door handle.

Result! A peach of a used car. In a week or so it'll be completely reconditioned and back on the road. In the hands of a satisfied driver.

Completely reconditioned?

We guarantee any car that meets our 16 standards of performance and dependability 100% for the repair or replacement of all major mechanical parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles.

The reason for all the fuss is simple. An unsatisfactory VW is the worst advertisement we can have. While a peach is the greatest.

So by the time our mechanics finish with this used VW, you'll be hard put to tell it from a new one.

Which is one reason VWs are so popular as used cars. They never look dated.

PATIO

Brighten up your outdoor living room with a patio for summer fun. Brick on sand base, either basket weave or in herringbone is very attractive. Cut or random slate with glass strips looks well, too. Gravel or fire brick offer considerable savings.

Railroad ties are ideal for edging and may also be used effectively for raised planting beds. As a retaining wall they can increase seating capacity by 50% or more.

News Of The THEATRES

SUMMER AND FINE
New Theatre Group, an exciting, if brief, season of summer theatre for Princeton become to take shape this week; in fact, this summer promises
one of the most rewarding theatre-going experiences a Princeton has had for some time.

"The Great Rock Players,"
a company of 11 young actors and their sustaining six "staff,"
have been invited by Princeton Day School's trustees to play
the school's new theatre on the Great Road, starting early in June. The players will give five presentations for live audiences, then offer two weeks of repertory with the same five plays.

The opening production will consist of two Moliere farces,
"The Flying Doctor" and "The Imaginary Cuckold." In the second week, the troupe will give Buchner's "Woyzeck" on a double bill with T. S. Eliot's
"Sweeney Agonistes." For its third offering, the company will mount Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." Three W. B.
Yeats plays known as the "Cuchulainn Saga" will come next, with John Gay's "Beg-

theatre-goers appear on the list of Advisory Committee members for this summer's "Great Rock Players." The Com-

Kenny, John Lithgow who is Managing Director for the Players, Mrs. DeWitt Smith and Stuart Duncan, committee chairman. Standing, left to right, are Paul Zimet, Associate Director, and A. Monroe Wade, Board member. Fred Blis-

duction.

Three children matinees have also been scheduled. For Princeton's youngsters, the Players will give a play called
"Silly Soup," a pantomime,
"Peter Pantheone" and the Moliere "Flying Doctor."

"A Learning Experience."
John Lithgow, who has just completed his junior year at Harvard, is the spark behind the Players. An English major, Mr. Lithgow has had wide experience acting and directing in Harvard's Loeb Drama Center. "Tartuffe," "L' Histoire du Soldat," "Tolantine," "Beggars' Opera" and a Moliere one-act play, among oth-

gather a group of like-minded and spirited young actors for what would be
"basically a learning experience" in the theatre, to use Mr. Lithgow's own words. He obtained the immediate and enthusiastic support of Paul Zimet, a Harvard medical student with whom he had worked in the Loeb Center. Ma-

Stuart Duncan, well-known as a producer and off-Broadway hit, is chairman. Other members are A. Monroe Wade, Triangle alumni who is in charge of theatre activities at PDS; Mrs. Herbert McKenney, new chairman of the McCar-ter Guild and former General Manager of McCarter; Mrs.

Moses' The purpose of the Advisory Committee will be to raise money. Patrons will be invited to contribute $25
 each, but anyone with more than $25 will be eagerly welcomed. Princeton Day School's rental fee will be nominal,
 based on utilities, janitorial service, a parking attendance and so on.

Tickets will probably be $2
 each, throughout the house.
 Actors will be paid a very modest, non-equity salary and will be housed, so far as possible, in McCarter's Bank Street house and transported to The Great Road for rehearsal and performance in McCarter transportation.

"It's an ideal location for summer theatre," said Mr.
 Lithgow. (It was John W. said it, but Arthur agrees).
 The P.O.S. theatre seats 200.
 Its splendid acoustics and sight lines; in fact, the sight lines are so good we probably won't even differentiate ticket prices. The campus is a lovely spot for rehearsing and for strolling between the acts.
 And there is plenty of parking."

Air conditioning? Well, no,
 but the theatre is on high ground north of Princeton, equipped with four large exhaust fans and lots of cross ventilation. Mr. Wade, Herbert McCarty, acting principal of the school, and Mrs. J.
 Richardson Dilworth, chairman of the P.O.S. Board of Trustees, do not regard ventilation in the summer as a problem.

which has not been in repectory for some years, has been revived and Mrs. Herbert McCarty, former general manager of McCarter, has been elected chairman.

The formal reconstitution of the Guild took place May 24
 at an evening meeting at the University's Walter Lawrie
 House. Mrs. Robert P. Cohen
 and Mrs. Francis R. G. Godel-phin were hostesses.

The Guild and Mrs. Mc-Cartney will begin to form a core of about 200 members, who are residents of High-
 town, Trenton, Somerville, towns around Princeton and of course Princeton itself.

"We want a cadre of men and women in surrounding towns to be leaders and to serve as liaison with McCar-ter," Mrs. McCarty explained.

Their purpose will be to sign up regular subscribers to the fund and reserve territory offerings at McCarter.

"A large body of active subscribers is the life-blood of any theatre," said Seymour
 Mandel, professional part-time
 Co-ordinator for the Guild.
 "We want to encourage more and more people to join the family of McCarter Season Subscribers."

The bald fact is that the University is footing a continuing deficit at McCarter, and the bald question is, how much longer can it continue to do so? The continuing support provided by a large, strong body of regular subscribers would be infinitely valuable.

Sign Up! How to recruit subscribers: "There are several practical things the Guild can do," Mrs. McCarty stated, "for example, a Guild member in Princeton or elsewhere, may invite 20 of his friends to a tea. He will select people who might be interested in McCar-ter, and he will ask each of them to chain style, to call a dozen friends, and so on."

Mrs. McCarty also plans a mailing to 300 corporations in the area, pointing out to personnel managers the cultural advantage of McCarter in furnishing prospective employees.

FETE DAY!

Try That Lane of Shops. As every Princeton shopper knows, the one place in town where you can buy dressed-made of paper, felt-covered doorstops, pajamas, barbecue aprons, penny candy and oil painting by professional artists is at the Lane of Shops at the Hospital Fete.

This Saturday, Community Park, as if you didn't know, a dozen merchandise booths will be set up under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Robert M. Merritt and Mrs. Ray B. Sowers, and talk about variety!

Hand-made evening sweaters, needlepoint pillows, cable-stitch socks (maybe you can convince him you knit them yourself), and children's sweaters will be in the Needlework Shop, headed by Mrs. Thomas W. Zelin and Mrs. Richard S. Reynolds.

"For Men Only"—that's the booth with the Batman aprons, Tiger bar glasses for men who didn't go to Harvard, executive widgets and golf balls are around here somewhere. This is where you—yes, you'll be admitted, in spite of that For Men Only nonsense—buy the paper dresses. They're decorated with Op Art and are just as a cure for myopia. Mrs. Peterson Marston and Mrs. John L. Leshar Jr. are in charge.

The Balloon Boutique doesn't sell balloons—it's been named for the Fete's familiar symbol. Imaginative things for bath, boudoir, closet and desk are the stock in trade. Waste-baskets for old bills, felt-covered doorstops for children's rooms—maybe they even have balloons. Mrs. Glenn Mohrman and Mrs. Frank J. Clark Jr. are the proprietors.

At the Flea Market—well, you never know. But we can tell you there will be a hand-embroidered coat blouse from Greece, Hospital Aid Committee members guided by Mrs. William Aiken and Mrs. Joseph Grael have assembled the collection.

The Toy Bonanza features the creations of Creative Playthings. Big and wonderful wooden blocks, wooden trains, models and big and huggable dolls are guaranteed to be present. Mrs. K. Dexter Miller Jr. is the guarantor.

At the Apron Bar will be those Hospital Fete favorites: the Friendship Club Inc. under the chairmanship of Mrs. F. Douglas Epps and Mrs. T. Howard Miller. Another old favorite, The Fabric Shop, will

Light Your Garden

Dramatic lighting for your garden, pool or terrace is easy to achieve with "Starbrite" from Litvins.

Six sealed beam, low voltage lamps come with 100 feet of cable which you can arrange with stakes or bury in the ground. The lights may be placed anywhere along the cable and changed at will to suit your landscaping and the mood you want to achieve.

Color lenses come with the "Starbrite," too, and may be changed for different effects. You get a 12-volt transformer, the great proof-of-no-shock cable, the six lights and the cord for $64.95. Plug the whole thing into any house outlet, by the way, because that transformer steps it all down for safety's sake.

also be back. Mrs. Leland Merrill and Mrs. Fred Pardee III are chairmen.

"Four and Twenty Blackbirds" is the boot that specializes in mystery. Wrapped surprise packages are grouped by age, so that the six-year-old customer will be just as happy as her great-grandmother. Mrs. David T. Demme and Mrs. Donald MacIsaac have tagged the packages with nominal prices. Just for fun.

Mrs. Neal W. O'Connor will snip a silhouette of your child and Charles T. McVicker will give you a quick, expertly drawn caricature of yourself.

Mrs. Leighton H. Laughlin in "The Gallery" will sell watercolors, oils, sculpture, woodcuts and engravings donated by professional and amateur artists. No price will be higher than $25.

TRAVEL LIGHT AND COOL. Courtesy Miss Goupil, Arrol, compressed into narrow heringbones, has been used for the most practical and becoming travel dress we've seen this side of a passport photograph. Elise Goupil is the shop.

Dresses are drip-dry, of course, and Miss Goupil tells us she packed two of them into a fifty bag and shook them out without a wrinkle. One of the dresses' most appealing features, aside from packability, is summery coolness. The sleeveless shift style has been designed with a three-inch collar, flattering as can be, and so cool!

Colors are powder, aqua, dusty pink, navy, black or white, and several geometric prints. A sash is optional.

Incidentally, the dresses have been finished at the hemline by cutting a series of little V's to conform with the heringbones. If your dress is a bit too long, take manœuvre—continue on Page 29

AUDITIONS TO BE HELD

By Regional Ballet. The Princeton Regional Ballet will audition candidates for its junior and senior companies this Sunday. Audrey Ealey, artistic director of the regional company, has announced.

The audition will be in the form of a ballet class conducted by Alfredo Corvino of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet School. Judges will be Frederic Franklin, director of the National Ballet Company, Washington, D.C., and Alex Ramey of the Scranston Ballet Guild.

Candidates sign an agreement that they will continue their present studio and take one class with the regional company on Sundays in Princeton. Those interested in auditioning should contact their teachers, write Mrs. Ealey, P.O. Box 171, Princeton, or call the Princeton Ballet Society, 921-7758. Applications must be submitted by Friday.

On Saturday, the Ballet Society in conjunction with the Royal Academy of Dancing, affiliate of the Royal Ballet of England, will hold special classes designed to instruct ballet students in the Academy's procedures. Miss Betha Edwards, licensed Royal Academy examiner, will hold examinations in dance programs before the master classes.

Eighty students from three dancing schools in New Jersey using the Royal Academy of Dancing system have been invited. Mrs. Ealey will be hostess at a tea following the classes.

"The Guns of Navarone" (now playing) one of the greatest war films ever made was first released in 1961. The cast is flawless, the production throughout painstaking, brilliant in execution and utterly exciting from the first moment to the last. The film flows closely to Alister MacLean's best seller, which for suspense and sheer dramatic punch has rarely been equalled.

The story is essentially simple. . . .

ple. The German forces command the approach through the Aegean Sea from a towering jag of sheer rock on the island of Navarone. High up in the face of that rock are mounted, in impenetrable strength, two huge guns ready and able to blast any ship within range. Six men are assigned to destroy the guns.

The six are Gregory Peck, officer and famed mountain climber; David Niven, corporal with a genius for explosives; Anthony Quinn, big, implacable Greek freedom fighter; Stanley Baker, telegraphist and expert knife fighter; James Darren, a Greek-American juvenile delinquent; and Anthony Quayle, selfish and dedicated British officer and leader of the unit.

Almost any one of the moments of danger and near disaster would suffice for any single film, but here they come again upon another, in an action-packed chronicle of high adventure.

PRINCE
The Ten Commandments (now playing) dramatizes the life of Moses, following the Cecil B. DeMille formula of sex and religion. This epic, first released in 1956, presents such spectacular sequences as the plagues, the building of an Egyptian treasure, the burning bush of the Red Sea, the burning bush, Moses receiving the Lord's commandments on Mt. Sinai, the pursuit by Pharaoh's chariot army and the oryx of the Golden calf. The cast includes Charlton Heston as Moses, Yvonne DeCarlo, Nina Foch, Martha Scott, Edward G. Robinson and Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

Some 25,000 extras take part in the extras, probably the most massive sequence ever filmed.

season and slip along the herringbone pattern yourself. No hemming needed.

Charming little silk prints weigh less than a hummingbird's wing. Look at the white one printed with life-size daffodils, life-size and life-size sprays of heather and weigh it effortlessly in your hand. It has real weight, marked by a flat bow.

An emerald silk has a print beige and white pattern printed in an applique against the base of the square neckline. Another silk, its print more modern in feeling, has a cuff softened by an open white design. Sleeves are brief caps.

Silk combines with rayon in an uncrushable "liten." It's bright, deep turquoise with fingers of oyster white. The shirt cut has a wide U neckline edged with a cow which turns into a scarf and ties in back.

Like a cool lily-pond—that's the Liberty Lawn dress with its stirring of blues, olives and a hint of dusty pink. It's a sleeveless dress with a wide flat bow at the top of the two front skirt panels. Another Liberty Lawn is olive and powder with two pleats breaking down the front from the natural waistline. Sleeves are short and cool.

COOK OUT

You Bring Coffee. If that's your assignment for the neighborhood picnic, you'd better invest in Udden's giant 36-oz. coffee pot. It's the old-fashioned picnic kind, in black speckled enamel or white enamel with an extra low handle to let the gal who pours. Speckled enamel comes again in the full clamshell, with "steamed clams" on top and "clam broth" below, drained for you via spigot.

The ice-cream freezer is the old-fashioned kind, too, although you can cheat a little and buy one that's electric, if you wish. Comes in blackery blue.

Udden's likes its rotter cast-iron grill, rather like a hibachi, but larger 12 or 15 inches across and equipped with a draft mechanism just like an old-fashioned stove. $12.95 and Multiple Housing Favored.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
T. B. FISHER (TOWN TOPICS, May 19) supports the Township Zoning Ordinance against its critics on the grounds that it protects him from higher property taxes. His concern with taxes is one which he focuses—on one quarter vs. two-acre lot—does not to the heart of the matter. As others pointed out at the May 2 hearing, you can build a $50,000 house on a quarter acre as well as on two acres.

The real question is do we continue to grow in the present pattern of monotonous suburban sprawl, or do we seek out more modern ways of using land that provide a variety of dwellings as well as people.

Mr. Fisher assumes that any change will mean more taxes for him. This is not so. First, the modern approaches we propose are less costly in municipal services, and provide more living space at less cost as well as being more varied and more attractive. William H. Wylie, the acknowledged expert, writes of one of these approaches:

"Good aesthetics, it is said, make good economies... Whether considered from the community's interest or the developer's or the homeowner's, the factors that make cluster developments look better are the same factors that make them more economical." (Cluster Development, 1964).

Second, Princeton's housing policy actually tends to encourage high taxes. People have different housing needs at different stages in their lives, and their demands on municipal services are of course highest in the child-rearing years.

Meanwhile, Princeton zones

out the single person, the newly-weds on first-job pay, the couple whose children demands for services are modest. For just one other communities have found that multiple housing with some amenities is a tax asset, not a liability. Also, let me add, a social asset, since its contributes variety to the community's population.

No one proposed to tear down any existing housing, or evict any present residents. A new piece of land is available in the Township and even in the Borough, to carry out the policies advocated here.

Thus the goal of a more varied and democratic Princeton—one which I assume Mr. Fisher shares—can be carried out without affecting either his home or his tax rate.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I would like to relate an experience which is certainly representative of something although I'm not quite sure what. I am a senior at the University, and in preparation to move I found that I had thirty or so books which I no longer felt I needed. They were not obscure texts or paper-paperbacks but old standards such as "Moby Dick," "Crime and Punishment."

Since I intended to settle in the Princeton area, I felt that it was time to do a small part in helping the community. I took the books to the Princeton Public Library.

It's New To Us
I was surprised when Page 25 $15.95, with convenient brass cleat handles to carry it all around.

If your cooking is done on "hot Utkens" has spit-baskets, hexagonal or box-shaped. Into the hexagonal basket you put the chicken pieces, or maybe the whole small chickens. Into wire hen you put frankfurters or hamburgers. Folding basket to spit and let 'em turn.

Folding picnic tables (30 inches) way up to 72-inch heights will take care of the crowd. After they've eaten all the food, they can relax in a $9.95 aluminum chaise. It could be any color, but we liked the copper one. Chairs are $4.98, and there is extra webbing if last year's chair had a little too much use.

Canning and freezing season has begun. What? You haven't been freezing asparagus and strawberry time is nearly here. Wolf Utkens has canning kettles up to 32-gallon capacity, freeze bags and boxes, jelly glasses, jars, bottles and funnels and even a big scale. Got a muffin recipe for that strawberry jam?

At the library I did not by members of Youth Association receive the glowing welcome I ate (formerly known as Young had anticipated but was Life). These young people are treated like some kind of a working, with the help of nat. I was told that it would Rogers Carrington. In get a student lounge, the teenagers of Princeton.

The dinner was excellent, the panelists had prepared short, interesting speeches and the program was enriched by amusing skits and a dramatist. Unfortunately, all this effort was only enjoyed by 56 parents and interested adults.

As one of the youthful speakers remarked in his speech, "when you have meetings to block a move to less than the town, or to explore the minute of drugs and alcohol by teenagers, hundreds of adults attend, but when we are trying to do something like all the 2000 teenagers of Princeton high schools, only a few parents come."

I was much impressed by Seeding Districts' Plans.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 Both West Windsor and Montgomery school boards
 have said at their public meetings, recorded on tape, that they would like to continue as sending districts with us through the next decade or more. There is no danger of the High School population dropping below 1200 students in the foreseeable future even if Princeton Township should withdraw.

On May 16, the West Win-
 dor Board of Education said in their public meeting that they have no plan to build a high school at this time. Their only building program in the addition to their elementary school, West Windsor would like to continue as a sending district and still wants to meet with our Board of Education in formal discussion.

On May 23, Montgomery's Board said at their public meeting that they would like to sign a ten-year sending-receiving agreement with option to renew.

Thus, both of our largest sending districts would, if our Board of Education were inclined to permit it, remain with us into the 1990's. To be able to plan a decade ahead is more than governments, businesses, individuals and many school districts can do.

If Princeton citizens are concerned about the truth of the numbers of future high school students, I suggest that they do as we did and attend
 the public meetings of our sending districts, and that they speak to the superintendents

TOWN TOPICS will make every effort, based on space limitations, to publish up to 500 words of any letter on a subject directly affecting the Princeton area. Because of the volume of news which must be covered at the community large, letters on topics of a na-

 cannot be considered.

Letters to Mailbox should be typewritten if possible, double-spaced, and must be signed for publication. Those received last

Editor's Note: For the official position of the West Win-dor Board, see below.

West Windsor is Waiting.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 In view of the many statements which have been made in recent weeks regarding the plans which have been discussed by the West Windsor Township Board of Education for the future of its high school students, it may be helpful to clarify our current position.

We are greatly concerned about the high school program
 for the children in our district. Possible plans have been discussed by our Planning and Development Committee, and we have met informally with representatives of both the Township and Borough boards.
 However, we have not as yet formulated any definite proposals.

The vote on the merger of the Borough and Township School Districts, to be held June 21, is of almost importance to the future of public education in the Princeton community. It is a matter which must be decided by the voters in the two districts.

We are confident that residents of the Borough and Township will examine the proposal carefully and objec-tively. West Windsor will be prepared to proceed with its planning based on the decision reached in Princeton.

Unabashed Picket Replier.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 In his letter to Town Topics
 May 26) Mr. D. W. Harris complains that, among other faults of intellect and character, the demonstrators who picketed the President during the Wilson School dedication carried cliché-ridden signs.
 Mr. Harris displays a rare spectrum of virtuosity in thought and style embodied in such truly despicable combinations of words as "public spectacle," "vital issue," "an-tation of pride," "all-too-fleeting instant," that he marks himself as a man who knows what words are used indissolubly to one another and with what thoughts they should be faithfully engaged.

As one of the pickets, most of whom to anticipate (a charge) were bona fide Princeton students, I feel that an education in government and international studies should be more than the appropriation of the mores and intellectual leger de main of a corrupt establishment. I felt, in consequence of this, that to have as the chief guest for the dedication a man who, in the opinion of many, has had little regard for law, national or international, was rather a disgrace. Therefore, I picketed.
 I am not at all sorry I helped "disrupt the decorum" of that "auspicious occasion" (more of Mr. Harris' original style) or as a matter of fact, that of Mr. Harris himself.

ON THE SUMMER SCENE: Miss Barbara Welmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul K.  viduals who picketed the President during his speech here "represent the most ignorant, impressionable and irresponsible elements" of the community. Although I was among the pickets, I was not representing anyone except myself.

However, if the ignorant, impressionable and irresponsible members of the community are against the war in Vietnam, and would like me to prevent them, I would certainly be willing, bearing such a mandate, I shall continue to protest in my own behalf.

Mr. Harris, whose sense of propriety in such acts feels that whatever the wisdom of the demonstrators' arguments concerning the war, the demonstration itself was a breach of etiquette. As he frequently puts it, the President's speech was an event "during which many of us in attendance were deeply touched by a sensation of pride and devotion to our University and our country, if only for an all-too-fleeting instant." In deference to such admirable emotions, Mr. Harris would have had us keep our picket signs that presumably ourselves at home.

There is no doubt, of course that love of sins mater and of country is to be encouraged and even rewarded, when feasible. It has been argued by some, however, that an ardent love of Princeton and America is not most adequately expressed by the uncritical and reverential reception of a speech which was remarkable only in its banality.

It has also been suggested that there are situations in which feckless manners and good breeding are less important than the expression of moral concern.

The demonstrators' point was that during the single day of the President's speech, rather large number of Vietnamese citizens—men, women, and children—as well as American soldiers, were killed or maimed, for reasons which have left many thoughtful persons doubtful, and a which have left others frankly dismayed.

Isn't it perhaps permissible to risk an untoward gesture on occasion when the stakes in our case of Vietnamese route are so immeasurably high? A man's injured aesthetic sensibilities can, in time, be healed, I suspect, those of Mr. Harris and Mr. Johnson. The prognosis for a peasant child drenched in napalm or a soldier disemboweled by a land mine, is generally less hopeful.

Receiving certificates will be: Medesma Ruth Aaronson, Helen Barthelmy, Virginia Berkowitz, Kathleen Decatur, Magdalen Edly, Ellen Durling, Meritts Farrell, Laura Layden, Annie McFadden, Katharine McKen Lillian Meyers, Lena Pellett and Dorothy Simms and Miss Jessie Serrell.

Room 320 Federal Building, 102 East State Street, Trenton. Used by the Corps to determine how an applicant can be vice-president and Margaret Frohlich, secretary-treasurer. memres general aptitude and Representatives elected include the ability to learn a language. Anne Harshorne and Joseph Comly, sixth grade; Harriet Davison and Nick Newirth, fourth grade.

The application form, not the test, is the most important factor in the selection of volunteers. Those interested in serving must fill out an application and present it to the tester before taking the exam. 1.83 Popularity Down 12%
Results of a public opinion survey taken last week by pollster Louis Harris reveal only 55% of the public think President Johnson is doing a good job. This 12% drop since January represents LBJ's lowest popularity rating since he entered the White House in 1961 and one-half years ago.

The 55% figure is roughly duplicated by Princetonians, who answered the same question, about half indicating they were unhappy with some aspect of President Johnson's policies. One elderly woman, who preferred to remain anonymous, voiced her discontentment in blunt words, saying, "I think he's just not doing what he set out to do." An older man said he thought Johnson would do a better job "if he forgot about the next election."

Mr. Harris noted, however, that two of America's favorite former presidents, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy, had recorded even lower ratings in tie affairs he's doing very well on the whole.

Mr. Elaine Chanler, Kendall Park, programmer for Mathematics, 1 Palmer Square: I'm not very happy with him. I'm disappointed in his foreign policy, the way we got so involved in Viet Nam. It's very similar to what I might have expected from Goldwater.

Winfried Lacer, Trenton, electrical technician, Palmer Labs: I think he's doing as good as could be expected considering the conditions. These are pretty rough times. It would be a tough job for anybody. I don't care who you are.

Al Davis, Witherspoon Street, Princeton Maintenance

Question of the Week
Question: A recent public opinion poll shows President Johnson's popularity to be the lowest since he entered the White House. Do you think he is doing a good job?
Where asked: Nassau Street.

Mrs. Virginia France, Pennington-Harbourton Road, Pennington, employee, University store: I think he is doing a good job, but I think the results of this poll reveal the reaction of the people to his Vietnamese policy. Many of the people realize it is not a good war. Or a war we shouldn't be in at all.

Chris Harbach, Pyne Hall, University sophomore: I think he is doing terribly in foreign policy, but domestically, I think he is doing exceptionally well.

Miss Diane Adams, 500 Mercer Road, University Store employee: I think he's doing a miserable job. I don't think we should be in the Viet Nam war. I think it's morally wrong. We're involving ourselves the same way the Italians and Germans involved themselves in the Spanish Civil War. This war is similar; we will never end in victory but in a stalemate as the Korean War. I don't blame Johnson entirely, but I blame his administration and I blame him for criticizing people who criticize his administration.

Robert Mulvey, Nassau Street, physicist: Generally, I'm satisfied with what he's doing. There's some concern with Viet Nam, of course, but I'm not too much opposed to what he's doing.

Mrs. Ruth Seubman, 360 Franklin Avenue, housewife: No, I don't think President Johnson is doing a good job. I think he's putting too much money in the war in Viet Nam and not enough into the war on poverty. I think he was voted in by people who wanted to see a de-escalation of the war and, of course, he's only succeeded in escalating it. I don't think he's doing a good job at all!

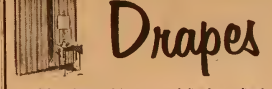

Maurice Benton, East Brunswick, consulting engineer, 124 Nassau Street: Basically, I still think he is doing a good job. I'm not enthusiastic about Viet Nam but I don't blame that on him, particularly. I think any other president would have done the same thing.

Mrs. A. G. Holder, 90 Shady Brook Lane, No. 1 just think he's a politician looking out for his own ends. I think he's looking forward too much to the next election. He's trying to appease everyone.

Carter, 18, in her home on John Street. Offering a plea of no defense, he admitted shooting his fiancée with a .22 caliber rifle during a struggle.

ON A SUNDAY AFTERNOON COME OUT AND SEE US

We're out of the chicken business! For years we enjoyed a fine reputation as high quality poultry breeders, and now there's not a Leghorn or a Rhode Island Red in sight. This change didn't come overnight. Seems that the old-timers on the farm liked to carry on the woodworking traditions of their forefathers, and they turned the hand-crafted reproductions of Early American furniture for themselves and a few friends. Well, wouldn't you know the word would get around! In fact, the demand grew so great that we've decided to go at it full time.

To the craftsmen at Cane Farm, woodworking is a labor of love. You just can't turn out custom furniture on an assembly line basis. Each detailed piece is hand-pooled with the techniques of days gone by. If you think this artistry has passed from the current scene, come visit us and see the fine work we turn out. In our new all-electric showroom, a converted farm building, you can browse among samples of the twenty-five or more different pieces we make. And you're perfectly welcome to take a look at our woodworking facilities, too. But don't expect to see a slam-bang operation! Old-time craftsmanship requires T.I.C.*

Why Mercedes-Benz has the nerve to charge $4170 for a car with a funny-sounding Diesel engine

The Mercedes-Benz 200D's "funny sound" means 30 miles per gallon of diesel fuel. No carburetors, distributors or spark plugs to replace. And an engine so durable you may measure its lifespan in half-dozen's of years.

Chairs, not seats
From inside, it's hard to detect the 200D's economical nature. You're cradled up front in separate, deeply upholstered seats.

measure to the upsurge in inquiries, for thousands of miles. All this economy—plus advanced features from front disc brakes to fully independent suspension—make the 200D a shrewd investment. For further proof, read on.

As over 500,000 Mercedes-Benz Diesels are on the road, this economy over a far longer period than flimsy little gasoline-powered "economy" cars ever could.

The secret: A Diesel engine that Mercedes-Benz engineers devoted 30 years to perfecting.

There's no more efficient power plant known—and it cuts costs so sharply that its "lumpy Diesel sound" is regarded almost with affection by Diesel owners.

Not that it's deafening—as CAR LIFE magazine reports: "Once under way, things quiet down and many unsuspecting passengers are surprised to learn that they're being ridden in a Diesel."

Under the hood

Why should a Diesel engine make a different noise than conventional engines? In a Diesel, fuel feeds through injection nozzles directly into the combustion chambers. Here, instead of sparks plugs, sheer compression ignites the fuel with more than twice the force of an average V8.

It's this combustion that you hear—and its efficiency helps squeeze 30 miles from every gallon of Diesel fuel.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars:

from $25,582 to $3,955

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested models for 8 of the 13 Mercedes-Benz models.

600 Grand Mercedes	$25,582
300SE Coupe	11,590
230SL Roadster	6,185
230SE Sedan	5,747
230SE Sedan	4,785

stled up front in separate, deeply upholstered chairs that orthopedic physicians helped design for minimum fatigue on long trips. The contoured single rear seat measures a full 5 feet wide.

A built-in ventilation system admits constant fresh air while whisking away stale air—with windows shut. Thoughtful extras are plentiful, from an electric clock to rear seat armrest.

Safety an obligation

Mercedes-Benz views safety as a sober obligation, not a public relations problem. Thus the 200D's body is a safety feature in itself.

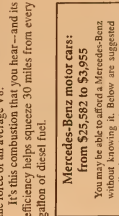

The center section where you ride is rigid. Front and rear sections are designed to crumple on violent impact, absorbing shock before it reaches the passenger area.

Door locks are designed to withstand collisions from any angle. And inside, 12 danger spots are either padded, recessed, or made of pliable materials.

Refueling stops are rare with the Mercedes-Benz 200D—fuel consumption averages 30 miles per gallon of diesel fuel, and a single tankful can take you 300 miles. For more good news, clip coupons.

About diesel fuel: It's cheaper than gasoline in most areas. It's obtainable at thousands of outlets, wherever diesel trucks fill up.

And it actually helps lubricate working engine parts, reducing wear so much that original Diesel piston rings have been found still serviceable after 250,000 miles.

Still more savings

Diesel economy stretches beyond fuel consumption figures. This unique engine uses no spark plugs, no points, no distributors or carburetors—so you'll never shell out money for replacements or costly tune-ups. And due to fundamentally different operation, the Diesel engine's prime parts are built for stronger.

Diesels last so long that one owner in Oregon has gone over 600,000 miles without major repairs. With decent care, your 200D will still be smoothly humming along while conventional cars are being rebuilt—or chopped up for scrap.

Ask an Alaskan

Mercedes-Benz Diesels are familiar sights in Alaska, Asia and wherever the terrain is rough. The car is rugged, yet you ride in blissful comfort over any surface.

Mercedes-Benz engineers long ago discovered the advantages of a fully independent suspension—an ingenious means of coupling force road grip with jolt-free riding ease.

Durability throughout

The 200D is built throughout to standards aimed at a long, trouble-free life. Durability begins with the body—titanium, heavy-gauge steel "unit" structure. Ten thousand spot welds squeak squeaks and rattles. A 24-pound primer coat, plus 24 pounds of permanent undercoating, still the creeping menace of corrosion.

Before painting, skilled workmen shave away every burr and blemish from the body. Then the 200D receives two-panels coats of a chrome-plated, wet-sanded, the second sprayed by hand.

Stanch brakes

When you stop in the 200D, you stop smoothly and straight. Time after time, from any speed even on gravel roads.

The two major reasons: (1) 9.9-inch front disc brakes and (2) 10.9-inch rear drums that supply excess stopping power for this 1½-ton machine; and (2) four-ply, super premium-grade tires designed to "dig in" on braking as they claw the road in cornering.

Note: The 200D's brakes are power-assisted as standard equipment. There's no

ART In Princeton

LAST SEASONAL SHOWS

At Gallery 100, Ann Parker and Aven Neal have come to Princeton once again. This time it is Gallery 100's second showing of their rubbings from Early American sculptures as well as rolled rubbings from Mexico.

Those who saw their previous shows at Gallery 100 of Firestone Library already experienced an important role played in American art history by the 17th and 18th century sculptures. Particularly in New England, where this pair of artists have directed their research among the city graveyards, the country metings and revise family plots, the primitive art forms of Puritan and Colonial America come alive.

As is pointed out, "nowhere else in the annals of Early American design was the artist as free to create an object which represented his feelings, beliefs and philosophies." This freedom of expression was almost completely devoid of outside influence as a result of the lack of communication which literally isolated communities before the 19th century.

The value of such a collection of rubbings is obvious if you have ever seen just one of those old gravestones in a neglected graveyard where weather and vandalism have all but obliterated the carvings. These very excellent rubbings by Ann Parker and Aven Neal will fill in an interesting and vital chapter of our country's art history.

Primitive. The sculptors themselves were usually anonymous and often were only part-time artists. Their styles were highly individualistic. Some used surprisingly sophisticated designs, others a childlike images and symbols. Some tried primitive portraiture and others preferred sentimental floral tributes.

For example an hourglass stands alone with the words, "My Glass Is Run." A snail-looking gentleman in profile looks at a woman with a full front face eye. The burial to be a man full of virtue who attended Yale University."

A delightful toshstone portrait of Polly Combs, a straight-lined and winged New Englander indicated that in spite of her rigid backbone, she was a woman full of spirit and humor. For a depicted sea-captain, someone used the symbol of a sinking sun whose burning rays are just disappearing below the horizon.

Quite different in character but just as primitive and descriptive of their culture are the subjects of the handsome scrolled rubbings taken in Mexico. These designs are heavy and complicated into an almost impenetrable maze. A Maya chief's head in detail is blunt of feature and hard of character. An Aztec "Water Dog," described so figuratively as "fabulous" is just as strong in type but unacceptably gay in feeling.

One of the longest panels on soft ivory like paper with wonderful color texture and delightful detail is "Witch Doctor." Many of these would make fine decorative wall hangings.

The show will continue through June 30 and will end the series of special exhibitions at Gallery 100 until fall.

Paintings by Marie Sturken. Until June 15, the Nassau Club will have an exhibit paintings by the Princeton artist Marie Sturken, who has exhibited in New Jersey at Gallery 100, Princeton; Gallery 100, Highland Park; The Present Day Club, the Princeton Art Association; the Nassau Club; the Princeton Art Association; and at the Hunterdon County State Exhibition where she was a prize winner last year. She attended the Grand Central School of Art, the Art Students' League and Pratt Institute and has worked in New York and Philadelphia as a commercial artist.

This latest show includes some of Mrs. Sturken's work which we have seen before with a familiar emphasis on balanced patterns of color, perspective and figure. In her more recent work we see a step-up in quality of color and organization and we will meet, in particular three out, standantly interesting pictures.

"Nature," a scene of boats and solid black figures is done with simplicity and dignity. With bright green, oranges and blues, it holds more than usual intensity of color.

"Portuguese Town" fits its lush, bright shape to the subject and depicts, in easy terms of perspective and exclusive tones of red, the rising roof tops of a hill town. In a fine face eye, the design moves to its climax.

The major work appears to us to be "Star Island Boats" into the two elements of rock and sea she has worked more broadly with color, occasional collage and design. Brilliant choice of color give movement to the water and

Baseball, Anyone? NCAA Tournament Offers Plenty

In the double elimination tournament scheduled for the NCAA District II baseball fields here, as many as seven games may be played in the three-day event which begins Thursday. Each team must lose twice to be eliminated.

In simultaneous action on Thursday at 4 Lafayette will meet Colgate on Clarke Field and Rutgers will play St. John's on adjacent Straburg Field, the freshman diamond. On Friday at 1, winners of Thursday's games will meet on Clarke Field and Thursday's losers will play on Straburg.

By 4 that afternoon, one team will have a 2-0 mark, one will be eliminated with an 0-2 record and the remaining pair will have 1-1 standings. The two 300 entries will then play on Clarke Field, with the loser eliminated.

On Saturday at 1, the teams with 2-0 and 2-1 records will meet. If the college with the perfect late wins, it's back to 3-1, a second round contest will follow at the College World Series in Omaha. However, if its record drops to 2-1 and the victor in Saturday's game raises its mark to 3-1, a second round contest will follow at the two—inasmuch as every team and one must lose twice before the tournament is ended.

All that needs to complete the picture a bit further is rain and/or a couple of 14-inning games.

It turned out that of the five-man committee, only one—the Pennsylvanians qualified automatically for a shot at a trip to Omaha by winning the Middle Atlantic Conference title, but after the loss to Princeton, their record was no better than 14 and 7. Prior to their appearance here, they were scheduled for a trip to Seton Hall, where their welcome at the hands of the disgruntled north Jerseyans figured to be anything but pleasant.

Through seven innings at Easton, the Tigers made only three hits and no runs. In the eighth, however, pinch-hitter Lynn Moore singled, Frank Niccoli doubled him home and when sophomore Bob Weber drove a long home run to left center, Eddie Donovan's operative had converted a deficit into a 2-2 lead.

Graham Marcot was the winner, raising his record to 6-3. Sophomore Steve Cuh-

Edge Lafayette, 3-2. While no one doubts the right of Lafayette District II defending champion, to a place in this weekend's tournament, the lustre of the four-team field was dimmed a bit further Saturday when Princeton topped various sportswriters began asking why this was the NCAA defense.

"We don't pick teams on a basis of won-lost percentages. We look at pitching depth, batting averages and consider a team's overall ability to win several games in a few days' time. That's the kind of pressure schedule they'll be under at Omaha."

If pitching and batting statistics are substituted for won-lost percentages, Seton Hall is still the only fair and logical choice. Its combined earned run average was 1.42 to 1.60 for St. John's. The latter had a 43-point lead in batting (.281 to .238 for Seton Hall), but no one in his right mind gives the nod to hitting over pitching at the level of baseball.

Look at the Dodgers, seventh in team batting last year and World Series champions.

It's hard to believe, but the reason the NCAA committee which faulted Seton Hall on lack of pitching depth is that the Hall's top two pitchers were so good, the rest of the staff had little chance to work. Norm Dornody and Bill Matz had combined records of 13 and 4. Matz, whose ERA is 1.02, lost only when his mates got him no runs at all—by scores of 1-0 to Manhattan and Holy Cross.

If the rest of the staff rode the bench a good deal, they were hardly anything to be ashamed of when they did have a chance to pitch. Ron Riccio and Don Kamman won six between them, lost only one and had respective ERAs of 2.07 and 2.22.

With a staff like that, how does a team do when it comes to winning several games in a few days? Well, at Seton Hall this spring, in a stretch of ten days, they won six and lost one—not once but twice.

NCAA BASEBALL HERE As Knickerbocker Flairdies. A three-day tournament to settle the NCAA District II Baseball Championship will begin Thursday at 4 on the two diamonds east of Palmer Stadium. By the time the winner has been culled late Saturday afternoon from among Colgate, Lafayette, Rutgers and St. John's, it is unlikely that anything will have occurred that will match the incredible lack of logic which resulted in omission of Seton Hall from the quartet of entries.

The bumbling, occasionally arrogant NCAA has precipitated a feud with the AAU over authority in the administration of track and field competition that has threatened this nation's cherished supremacy in the Olympic Games, and more recently has had the temerity to tell the nation's colleges what their academic and admissions standards should be. Now it has come up with another gem. After this one, the NCAA may still have a friend at Chase Manhattan, but it certainly hasn't any at Seton Hall.

Look at this for logic: Seton Hall won the Metropolitan Conference with an 8-2 mark, St. John's (7-3) tied for second. Seton Hall had a 19-5 record for an overall percentage of .791. St. John's against easier opposition, was 20-and-7 for a percentage of .749.

In the lone meeting of the two teams, the winner was Seton Hall.

Blind Man's Buff. So the committee, meeting Thursday in New York, picked St. John's. When astounded athletic officials at Seton Hall and more worked the last two innings in fine fashion, allowing only one batter of the seven he faced to reach first. The Tigers will be at New Haven Saturday and they finish the season here on June 11 in the last commencement game to be played with the Elis.

THREE FIRSTS FOR PHS
 Bennett Scores a Double.
 Princeton High School's ace hurdler, unbeaten this season, remained that way Saturday as he won two events in the South Jersey Group IV track meet at Asbury Park. Bart Bennett took the high hurdles in 15 seconds and won the lows in 18.9.

Like-wise a winner was Dan Tindall, who tossed the javelin 182 feet, 5 inches. The Little Tigers totalled 22 points in the meet, good for fourth place behind Neptune, Long Branch and Vineland.

PHS IS SECOND
 In New Brunswick Invitational. With 44 points, the PHS track team finished second, 10 behind New Brunswick, which won last week's New Brunswick Invitational. Asbury Park, 45 points, was third and High-Land Park, fourth.

Highlights, as far as Princeton was concerned, were Bart Bennett's lines of 182 and 14.5 in the low and high hurdles, both one-tenth of a second off his school record in each event. Dan Tindall reached 200 feet, 3 inches to win the javelin and Bob Way took the pole vault.

Keith Conover and Craig Bechtel finished second and third in the javelin as PHS continued its mastery over all comers in this event. The Little Tigers scored in every event.

At the same time, the Blue and White received injuries to key performers. In trying for 12-6, Way landed on his hip coming down and his head hit the mauldum. He was hospitalized in New Brunswick for a slight concussion. "He's out for the rest of the season," said coach Jerry Groninger.

A similar fate has befallen sprinter Vince Bocanous. He injured a knee and is out for the year. The long-hauling football injury has kept Vince out of the early season meets and prevented him from attaining his fine performance of last year.

In addition, Mike Conant, the No. 1 half-miler, injured his knee and appears to be finished. Ronald Jamieson took fourth in this event at New Brunswick in 2:08, and Groninger reports Jamieson's times have been coming down steadily.

Carl DeCavalcante placed third in the shot and fifth in the discus, while Ed McEwen earned four points by taking fourth in the 220 and fifth in the 100 and high jump. Dave Moorman and George Fifield finished 3-4 in the 440.

Bennett captured a fourth in the broad jump as did Dan

Corrington in the discus. Way and John Knevo placed fifth respectively in the broad jump and two-mile.

TENNIS STAFF INCREASED

With addition of Ham Nagill. The appointment of Ham Nagill, Princeton University senior, to the staff of the Community Tennis Program for the 1966 season was announced this week. Ranked number one on the Tiger tennis team for a good part of the season, Nagill is the son of the tennis coach at the University of Georgia and is one of the top-ranked junior players in the south.

He will work primarily with Princeton coach John Conroy in classes which will begin June 20. Other college players returning this summer to aid in the instruction program are Linda Conroy, a sophomore at Briarcliff, and Dede Shipway, a senior at Wells.

Registration for the classes may be made through Mrs. James Fitzpatrick (924-2190).

DOGS PERFORM

At Graduation Exercises. Miss Jane Miller with her 3-year-old spaniel won the beginner's class and Miss Beth Rinalove and her cocker spaniel won the intermediate division at graduation exercises for the spring classes of the Princeton Dog Training Club held at the Princeton Day School gym.

In the beginner's class, Miss Miller scored 198½, and Mrs. William Parsons came in second with her shetland sheepdog, scoring 197½. Mrs. Barbara Geiseler placed third with her puli with a score of 197½, and fourth was George Siebert and his basset, scoring 197.

Miss Rinalove scored 197 to lead the intermediate class. Mrs. Suzanne Moravitz and her Yorkshire terrier were second at 195, and Mrs. Joan Stoddard and her great dane were third with 192½.

SEVENTH LOSS BY 1 RUN
PHS' Matt Jones, 2-2. The razor thin margin by which many of Princeton High School's baseball games have been decided this spring continued to go against it Friday as the Little Tigers dropped a 3-2 decision to Somerville. The defeat was the Blue and White's seventh by one run since the season began.

Tom Wood worked the first eight innings, driving in both the losers' runs. Joe Harding was the loser in relief.

PHS hit well, Tom Yoder getting three singles and Mark Fischer and Jack Van Zandt, two apiece, did not connect with runners waiting to be driven home. The defeat lowered the Little Tigers' record to 7-9-1.

TENNIS SEASON ENDS
With 3-2 Ewing Victory. Coach Bill Hunter, Princeton High School tennis team completed another winning season last week, squeaking by Ewing 3-2. The scheduled finale with B.M. was not out and was not played.

The Little Tigers ran into unexpected trouble in Pete Dimpel and Harry Stokes, No. 1 and 2 singles who dropped their matches. Matt Handelsma came through in the third singles match, however, and the doubles teams of Gleno and Allen Keller and Cooke Smith and Dave Russell triumphed to earn Princeton its come-from-behind win. The team ended with a fine 11-3 log.

HONOR WOMAN BOWLER
For Service to League, Mrs. Thelma Lockard, 224 Varsity Avenue, Penns Neck, has been honored by the Trenton Suburban Women's Bowling Association for her work in organizing the Association and promoting women's bowling in this area. She was given a dinner at the Palmer Motor Inn.

Mrs. Lockard's bowling career began in 1936 when she joined a league in Camden. In 1942, she organized the Trenton Association, and after considerable effort on her part, it received its charter from the Women's International Bowling Congress two years later. Mrs. Lockard was named its first secretary.

During the years of World War II, she also found time to assume the duties as New Jersey representative for "Winces in Jersey," a campaign sponsored by the WIBC. For her efforts in this behalf, Mrs. Lockard received a Certificate of Merit from the National WIBC.

The State WIBC Association became a reality in 1944, chiefly through the efforts of Mrs. Lockard, and she was its first president. Two years ago, the New Jersey State Women's Bowling Association elected her to its first office, and she was the first such honor ever accorded one of its members. They also submitted her name to the WIBC for permanent membership.

Mrs. Lockard's abilities do not lie solely on the organizational side. Over the years she has proved to be a very competent bowler. Her highest average is 169, single game high, 257, and high series, 597.

drove both home with a base knock.

Pennington tallied its lone run in the third. It was underscored by runners on first and second, a double play ball misfired as the throw to first baseman Jim MacLeod was wide, permitting the runner on second to score. The two schools had battled to a 2-2 tie in the season's opener for both.

Earlier in the week, Hun defeated Perkiomen for the second time in less than a week, 5-1. Sophomore hurler Mitchell Ueda was coming on a perfect game until the sixth when Perkiomen broke through for a single tally. In its last three games, defense-minded Hun permitted only three runs.

Sharp Reversal. Thus under Sandford Bing, who returned this season as coach after a two-year hiatus, Hun rebounded from a 4-8 overall record in 1965 to this year's overall 10-2-1 mark. Hun started strong faltered in mid-season when it dropped back-to-back decisions, and finished flat, outscoring its last five opponents, 35 to 9.

Ueda ended with a perfect 3-0 mark on the mound, and will be the foundation for 1967's mound staff. Phil Siegle, who divided his playing behind the plate and on the mound, finished with a 1-1 mark.

Leaving via the diploma route will be such standouts as Senneters, who Bing said had perhaps the best year at the plate for Hun; MacLeod, a leader in RBIs; Judy Beitel, and co-captains Miller and Scott Anderson.

"We lose a lot of regulars and it will be a rebuilding year," said a rebuilding Charlie Seassura of Kingston.

How To Survive

We read reports from several states on safety inspection programs, and in some areas more than half the cars were rejected for one or more unsafe conditions. On a national average about 60% of the cars on the road are five years old or older, so considering wear and tear it is not surprising that such a high percentage of cars show up some unsafe items. Inspected items without delay. Have these items inspected: brakes, turn signals and lights, steering linkage, tires, wheel alignment, wheel and rim shock absorbers, suspension, exhaust system, fuel lines and windshield wipers. year for next year, but I think we will have a good nucleus to start with," said Bing. At the forefront, he played a trio of sophomores: Cels, Tom Hewell and Ken Kelley.
Hewell and Kelley performed ably at second and short this season. Mike Simko will return and handle the backup duties.
For Bing, who gave up on all his coaching duties when he was named Dean of Boys, the 1966 season is something of a personal triumph. Said the former Lafayette player, "It was a nice way to end."

ETS BEATS SHELL

Tied For First Place. Educational Testing, behind the four-hit pitching of Jack Dilworth, knocked off previously undefeated Shell Chemical last week, and moved into a three-way tie for first in the Eastern Division of the Business Soft League.
In the Western Division, RCA, McGraw-Hill and Columbia Carbone also were involved in a tie for first place in the Business Softball League, giving J. Finkels' three-run, run-homer and Guy Nelson's triple were the big blows as ETS knocked Shell, 6-2. Bruce Galt accounted for Shell's runs with a lone home run to center field with one on.

Columbia Carbone, the doorman of the Western Division last year with a 3-1 record, crushed last year's league champion, Accelerator, 16-4, to hold on to part of first place. It was a particularly satisfying win for Carbone, which beat Accelerator for the first time in four years.

Joe Schmick had four for four and winning pitcher Bill Gabagan contributed two hits, one a four bagger. For Accelerator, Carl Schuler had four hits in four at bats and John Hunsicker picked up three.

RCA handed Oppenheimer its 20th straight loss, by walloping the luckless losers, 16-1. Henry Hood had three hits, Steve Conner three and two RBIs. Ed Lopatin three and three RBIs, and Artlett three and two RBIs for RCA. Bob Nielsen won his second game against one losing in limiting ORC to four hits.

McGraw-Hill kept pace with the Western Division leaders with a 14 to 8 triumph over RCA Astro. Don Duda had four for four with two homers, and Joe Simme, Angelo Vasi and Lou Baldassari all hit four baggers for the winners. Bob Debusch won his third game for McGraw-Hill.

In other games in the Eastern Division, RCA B earned a share of first place with Shell and ETS, punching out a 9 to 3 victory over winless Western Electric. Bill Wright, Ed Kreiger and Ron Beiringer led the RCA attack and Ed Plushen hit a home run for ETS. Carl Valentini has attributed ETS' slow start to poor hitting.

Joe Castora performed a rarity in slow-pitch softball when he shut out American win streak. Pete Zidler, Sol Johnson and Bob Bases combined for the winning run for Ellsworth.

Earlier in the week, Marty Clark fanned 11 in pitching Thorne's to a 3 to 2 victory over the West Windsor Lions. Rick Rogers belted a two-run homer for the winners.

American Cynamid moved into sole possession of third place with a pair of wins over Craft Cleaners and First National. Dave Horowitz, Lance Marshall and Bill Wynn led the Cynamid attack in a 14 to 3 triumph over Craft, and Mike Carucci was the winning pitcher. In the 7-2 victory over the Bank, Jim Westelling and Steve Capp provided the hitting for Cynamid.

The Craft Cleaners game against the West Windsor Lions was postponed because of rain.

The standings:

Thorne's Ellsworth A. C.	6	2	.750
Cynamid	4	6	.500
1st National	3	5	.375

GROUND ACE: Pitcher Jack Dilworth has raised ETS to a tie for first place in the Business Softball League, giving up just four runs in his first two games.

Cynamid for Hopewell TV. 6-0. The win raised Hopewell's record to the 3-0 mark.

TWO TIED FOR FIRST

In West Windsor League, Thorne's Pharmacy and Pillsworth A.C. remained tied for first place in the West Windsor Little League as both teams split a pair of games in their last week's action.
Ellsworth lost a squeaker to First National Bank, 3-2, in extra innings. Behind 1-0 in the final inning of regulation play, Ellsworth scored two runs to gain a 2-1 lead. However, Doug Everett scored the tying run for First National in the bottom of the inning, and hits by John Bowker and Dave Lebur produced the winning rally in the ninth. Kevin Tyunns, who struck out 12 in six innings, and Ben Love pitched well for the Bank.

Overcoming a three-run deficit, Ellsworth bounced back to heat its first place rival Thorne's 5-4, in extra innings and snap Thorne's six-game

EDGERSTONE . . .

Located in what is, perhaps, Princeton's most unusual and desirable residential enclave, far off the main road and away from through traffic, this fine white clapboard residence has 5 bedrooms, 3 baths. Off the foyer is a large living room with fireplace, dining room has French doors leading to a screened porch, and the kitchen has dishwasher and disposal. City water, city sewer. Attached 2-car garage. Study downstairs. House newly painted outdoors. Large lot (150 x 200) with beautiful shrubbery and many trees in the background. For the children, Johnson Park School is within walking distance. (Sole Agent) $59,500

ALMOST NEW . . . in an area only 8 minutes from the Shopping Center,
on an acre of land, this two-year-old house has 3 bedrooms, den (or 4th bedroom) 2 baths and powder room.
Spacious living-dining area, modern kitchen with ample breakfast space, large recreation room. On a quiet circle in rolling country with woods in the background, here is a charming

of playmates for your children.
(Sole Agent) $31,500

RIVERSIDE . . . here is a fine big house with 5 bedrooms, 2 baths and tionally Colonial in architecture, with grey shingles and white shutters. First floor: large living room, dining room,

ARMOUR ROAD . . . on almost an acre of beautifully landscaped grounds in what is generally admitted to be one of Princeton's choicest residential areas, this brick residence has 4 bedrooms, 2 baths and powder room. The paneled living room has a fireplace and French doors to the terrace. Here is a property with great possibilities. You may decide to enlarge the kitchen, or paint some of the paneled walls, or rip out 2 closets and change the den into a dressing room. However, any money you spend on improvements will be money well invested, for this is a neighborhood of elegant (and expensive!)
homes, and capital invested here has an almost incomparable record of appreciation. (Sole Agent) $69,500

COUNTRY HOME . . . on lovely wooded acreage only 12 minutes from Princeton. Paneled living room with in a choice location with 2 bedrooms and 1 large tiled bath. It is ideal for newly-weds, or as a retirement home.

There is plenty of land, however, for expansion. (Sole Agent) $36,000
